THE ROHWER Outpost

Vol. II, No. 45 Rohwer, Arkansas June 5, 1943

RESULTS OF COUNCIL ELECTION

MARCH CLOTHING GRANTS TO BE PAID BY CHECKS

Beginning with the March clothing allowances, payments will be made by check instead of cash.

Checks will be issued by the Regional Disbursing office, Kansas City, Mo., and mailed directly to individuals in the Center.

The preparation of March clothing allowances have been completed and payment vouchers have been sent to the Regional Disbursing office. Checks for residents are expected to arrive by June 12.

They may be cashed at the Co-op stores and the exchange cost for any one check cannot exceed five cents. As an added service to the residents, these checks will be accepted at the post office for money orders, war savings bonds and other services.

Due to this change in procedure of payment all Center residents are especially requested to notify the Welfare Section of any changes in barrack address. Should any checks be sent to wrong addresses, it is requested they be returned to the post office immediately.

Residents leaving the Center after payment orders are sent in are requested to notify the post office of forwarding addresses. The post office will forward checks to the new address. Checks will be issued only to the payees to whom they are addressed.

SOLVE PLANS FOR MEDICOS

Concerning the local situation on doctors, Ray D. Johnston, Project Director, announced "preliminary arrangements are being worked out between the Public Health Service and the WRA."

If completion of plans does not materialize or is too slow, there will be an equalization of the medical staff in all the Centers according to their population and need.

SEGREGATION NOT DEFINITE

When asked about the possibilities of segregating the loyal and the disloyal, Project Director Ray D. Johnston stated, "No definite segregation program has been decided upon at this time. However, the segregation problem is being considered on a national basis by the War Relocation Authority and in my opinion some program of this kind is going to be necessary, since all of the centers have people who show a definite preference for returning to Japan or who indicate loyalty to that country."

FIRST AID UNIT SET FOR FARM

Negotiations are now being made by the local Red Cross Home and Farm Accident Prevention committee headed by Art Hisaka to provide a mobile First Aid station on the Center farm.

Shigeki Higashi and Jimmy Ishida were selected on the committee which is also making a survey of the accidents which have occurred on the local farm.

It was also reported that with Higashi as instructor, the first standard course in First Aid will start Monday for 49 men of the internal security staff from 3 to 5 p.m. every other day in PS hall 28.

First Meeting Of Councilmen To Be Tuesday

With Project Director Ray D. Johnston presiding the first meeting of the newly-elected councilmen will be held Tuesday; time and place of meeting will be announced later.

5000 ENJOY TWO-DAY SHOW

During their two-day outdoor performances Tuesday and Wednesday nights, the Miyazaki troupe, professional dramatic group of Los Angeles, played before a combined audience of 5000.

Headlining the five-hour show were "Chushin-gura," a shibai by stars of the Miyazaki Dansho; "Shira nami gonin otoko," a drama by the Rohwer Young Men's association members; music by Akira Umemoto's Rohwer orchestra with vocalist Grace Sumida; and odori.

The Engei Kai was sponsored by Block 20.

STATE HIGH SCHOOL HEAD VISITS CENTER

Dr. M. R. Owens, state high school supervisor, spent June 1 in the secondary school classrooms and offices, inspecting plants, classes and general organization.

He reviewed the annual high school report. He spent the last hour of his visit with the superintendent and the principals. Dr. Owens said that if he had the annual report in his office before June 10 the school will be given a letter rating for the year of 1943-1944.

Dr. Owens expressed his approval of the whole educational program and indicated that it was much better than he had anticipated.

The school is now applying for "A" rating. It is the highest rating given by the state department of education.

WRA CORRECTS "DENVER POST"

The Washington office of WRA announced today that it had distributed to all field relocation officers and to private groups cooperating in the relocation program a statement commenting on charges made in a recent series of articles in the "Denver Post."

John Baker, Chief of the Washington WRA Reports division, declared, "While the 'Post' articles were notable for hearsay evidence, omissions and misinterpretations of fact, we felt that they might have a deleterious effect on public attitudes toward evacuees unless active steps were taken to present the correct facts to the American public."

Copies of WRA's statement are available at the office of Austin Smith, Reports officer, in the Public Works building, for any Center resident who would be interested in reading it.

LIVING COSTS OF EVACUEES COMPARED

"It isn't so much what you earn, it's more how you spend it that determines whether or not the 'high cost of living' is an obstacle to successful relocation". That was the conclusion of the Advisory Committee for Evacuees, 189 W. Madison St., Chicago, Ill., based on experiences of approximately 300 more evacuees relocated in the Chicago area during April.

Over 95 per cent of the evacuees have located satisfactory employment and are making successful readjustments, indicated the report from Edwin C. Morgenroth, executive secretary.

Living costs of a cross-section of evacuees as compiled by the Committee are given in a few examples below.

"A" is a young man, single, who relocated two months ago. He works in a factory, unskilled labor, earning an average of $33 a week. He lives at a hotel, eats all meals 'out'; after transportation, laundry, recreation and miscellaneous items, he saved $22 his first month. Last month moving into a housekeeping apartment with a friend where they cooked meals and packed lunches, he saved $35.

"B" is married and both are working as domestics. Together they receive $130 monthly plus room with private bath, and board. "We save about $100 monthly." Both are not too sure they like the work better than anything else they might be doing, but they want to save as much as possible now. Their employers are satisfied with them.

"C" is married and has a baby. He earns $165 monthly in a manufacturing plant. They pay $45 for a nice apartment, "a little steep on my salary," but after skillful budgeting on other expenses, buying $25 war bond monthly and $6 insurance, he has about $10 left.

KEEPING POSTED With FKO

Because the Lodi baseball club was undecided as to whether they should enter two teams in the "A" loop or not, the opening of the Center's baseball league will be delayed another week.

If the Lodi horsehiders expect to give the Stockton Yamatos, pre-league favorites, a run for their money certainly the most logical decision for them to make is to enter the strongest possible nine in the class "A" league and enter the remainder into the competitive Bee race.

There isn't any sense in Lodi forming two even teams for the Aye loop unless the Yamatos and the Cardinals merge and do likewise--which they will not. If the Grape City club carries on with the splitting up idea, they might as well hand the championship to the Yamatos right now.

--oOo--

In fact, Lodi has enough baseball material to rate on even terms with the veteran Yamatos. The pitching department is well taken care of by the versatile Kagawa brothers, Will and George, and while one is on the mound the other will handle the initial sack.

Two burly backstops, Kazuto Ito and Sakae Yamashita, will do the receiving. Veteran Kiichi Hiramoto, the steadiest infielder in the Center, is a permanent fixture at second. Speedy Sat Ouno will be in the hot corner while half pint Miko Takeuchi is the lad most likely to fill the important shortstop position.

The outfield should be Lodi's strongest department. They have the following to choose from: Sammie Ichiba, Shig Kaba, Red Tanaka, Mauch Yamashita, Monte Urakami, Kaz Hiromoto and Jimmie Hayashi.

--oOo--

Of course, this is a far cry from the heydays of the state championship Templars of 1939 and '40, when such stars as Matsuo Okazaki, Shot Iwamura, George Takeuchi, Johnny Hiramoto and the Okuhara brothers used to terrorize California's diamonds but still the above-mentioned players can make a team worthy of keeping up Lodi's baseball name.

SUMO STARS TO HOLD TOURNAMENT SUNDAY

18 JEROME WRESTLERS IN ACTION

Pitting the cream of Rohwer and Jerome wrestlers, the colorfully decorated battle pit at the Junior high school field will be the scene of the gigantic twilight sumo tournament Sunday from 5:45 p.m.

The meet will bring together under one roof some of the classiest nisei grunt-and-groan artists from California, reviving the thrill-packed and flaring intersectional tournaments of the pre-Pearl Harbor years.

Jerome is reported to bring a powerful team which has for its picking the best crouch-and-grapple boys from Florin, Central California and Los Angeles.

Victor Matsui, young stalwart from Redondo Beach, and George Kagawa, versatile Lodi athlete, are expected to lead the local wrestlers tomorrow.

The tournament is under the sponsorship of the Rohwer Sumo association, and chairmen for the event are Ryoiichi Horibe and Choichi Kasai.

GIRLS' SINGLE PING PONG TOURNEY TODAY

PS hall 40 will be the scene of the Girls' singles table tennis tournament championship today from 1:30 p.m.

Chairman Grace Hagio announced that last minute entries will be still accepted until the time of the tournament.

Favored to cop the title are two Los Angeles ping pong artists, Minnie Takamoto and Helen Fukutomi.
